Introduction

This bibliography of Mid-Continent Public Library resources for genealogical research on seventeenth-century Virginia was compiled in April 2000 at the request of the Kansas-Missouri Company of the Jamestowne Society. Because that original version proved useful to library patrons and staff members, and in order to make it reflect recent library acquisitions, we now offer this expanded and revised new bibliography.

Included here are resources that relate substantially to the colony of Virginia in the 1600s. Resources that focus only on a single county or region of the colony are excluded because they can be identified readily by a subject search in the library's online catalog.

Locating resources in the online catalog that focus on the entire colony, however, can be more difficult and time consuming. This bibliography is intended to alleviate that difficulty.

We hope that this revised and updated bibliography will assist you in searching for your early Virginia ancestors. It will be revised as needed; suggestions for its improvement would be appreciated.

Note

The final element of each entry in this bibliography, presented in bold type, describes the holdings of the Mid-Continent Public Library system, as in the example:

Bockstruck, Lloyd DeWitt. Virginia's Colonial Soldiers. Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing, 1988. (ix, 443 pages)
Ref (GE, ES, SI) 975.5 B6312
Circ (AN, NI) 975.5 B6312

“Ref” (reference) indicates that this item is available for use in the library only.

“Circ” (circulating), on the other hand, indicates that the item may be checked out by library cardholders and may be borrowed via interlibrary loan. The library owns both reference and circulating copies of selected important resources.

Next appears, in parentheses, a two-letter abbreviation for each branch of the Mid-Continent Public Library System that owns the item. “Ref (GE, ES, SI)” indicates that reference copies of this item are owned by three branches in the Mid-Continent Public Library system. A key to the two-letter codes for all thirty of those branches appears on the following page. Please note that circulating (“Circ”) items may be sent to any branch for checkout and also may be returned to any branch.

The final element in each entry is the call number for that item.

Thus, “Circ (AN, NI) 975.5 B6312” in the example above indicates that circulating copies of Lloyd DeWitt Bockstruck’s Virginia's Colonial Soldiers may be found in the Antioch and North Independence Branches, each having the call number 975.5 B6312.
